

Chapter 3

Magic Lamp

I wish I had a magic lamp,
I'd rub it every day,
I'd wish for this and wish for that
And lots of games to play.

But most of all I'd wish to sail
Upon the seven seas,
To call on shores with golden sands
And shady, tall, palm trees.

And when I'd seen some far-off lands and had a look at Spain,
I'd rub my magic lamp once more
And go back home again.
